VIRGINIA LAND PATENTS AND GRANTS

1623 - 1732

These Virginia patents and grants were copied from Nell Marion Nugent's Cavaliers and Pioneers, Vol. I-III, published by the Virginia State Library in 1934, 1977, 1979.

To stimulate immigration and settlement in Virginia, the London Company assigned a 50 acre headright to each person who paid their own transportation to Virginia. These persons also received 50 acres for each additional person for which they paid transportation to Virginia.

Sometimes the persons claimed in these headrights had been in Virginia for many years. Many persons claimed as a headright were not immigrants. Through repeated voyages to England and return, people were claimed numerous times by friends and relatives who had paid their passage to receive 50 acres.

An excellent example of this practice cited in the introduction of Cavaliers and Pioneers, Vol. I, is that of Capt. Nicholas Martian (Martiau). Nicholas received land 6 Jan. 1639/40 for transporting himself, wife, son, and daughter. On 2 Nov. 1658, Capt. Martian, his wife and daughter, Elizabeth, were claimed in a patent given to George Read, Martian's son-in-law. Nicholas and his family had evidently returned to England; their return passage was paid by Read who claimed an additional headright for paying their passage.

After patenting and surveying the land a patentee was required to settle the land within three years of the date of the patent and pay annual rent of one shilling per 50 acres. If the land wasn't settled within three years it was called lapsed land and could be patented by someone else who petitioned the General Court.

Patented land also reverted to the crown if the patentee died without heirs. This was called escheat land. Most escheat land occurred when persons died intestate.

On 21 June 1699, a treasury right was established. A person paid 5 shillings to the auditor and could take up a 50 acre patent. On 14 April 1699, headrights were no longer granted for transporting blacks into the colony.

Beginning in Patent Book 10 the clerks began to label lands as new land, old land (previously owned), lapsed land (previously patented, but not settled within 3 yrs), escheat land (returned to the crown when the person died without heirs or was convicted of a felony).

ALBERT MARTIN OF RHODE ISLAND

HERO OF THE ALAMO

For thirteen days 188 volunteers held off 4,000 Mexicans in the Battle of the Alamo; they all faced certain death. It was Albert Martin who escaped from the mission to call for help "to the people of Texas and all Americans in the world." Martin returned on March 1, 1836 as captain of the thirty-two men from Gonzales and its environs.

The Southwestern Historical Society's account of the battle judged Martin's action as "perhaps the bravest and most self-sacrificing incident in the defense of the Alamo."

One hundred eighty-seven men died at the Alamo in Texas on 6 March 1836. One of these men was twenty-eight year old Albert Martin. For many years, historians believed that Albert was born in Tennessee. This error has been corrected in recent years, but the plaque on the wall of the Alamo still reads: "Albert Martin - Tennessee."

Albert Martin was born 6 Jan. 1808 and graduated from Captain Partridge's Military School in Connecticut. He was later part owner of Martin, Coffin & Co. in New Orleans, La. and acquired business interests in Gonzales, Republic of Texas.

A New Orleans newspaper said this about Martin: (no date available) "Among those who fell at the storm of San Antonio was Albert Martin, a native of Providence, R. I., and recently of this city. Albert Martin died a not unapt illustration of New England heroism. He has left his family and perhaps the nation an example of heroic and high-minded chivalry which can never be forgotten, and which is worthy of the best days of Sparta or of Rome!" William L. Joyce

In 1858 a twelve foot monument was placed on the Martin plot in North Burial Ground in Providence, Rhode Island. Among other names on this monument is "Albert Martin fell at the Alamo, March 6, 1836 in service to his adopted country."

Albert Martin had business interests in Gonzales Co., Texas. Caldwell County, Texas was created from Gonzales County in 1848. Joseph Martin, age 40, born Rhode Island is found in the 1850 census of Caldwell County. Joseph S. Martin, age 48, born Rhode Island, is found in the 1860 census of Caldwell County. This Joseph Martin is probably closely related to Albert.

Albert was the son of Joseph S. Martin and Abbey B. Martin. His two grandfathers were: (1) Joseph Martin, born 6 May 1754, died 29 Aug. 1823, married Abigail Butler, b. 1756, d. after 1819. Joseph was pensioned for service in the Revolutionary War; he lived in Hampton, Windham Co., Conn. in 1819 and in Chaplin, Conn. in 1823. (2) Silvanus Martin, born 19 March 1748, died 25 Nov. 1818, married 6 Nov. 1774 to Amy Brown. Silvanus Martin was also a Revolutionary Soldier.

THE MARTIN FAMILY

PICTORIAL & BIOGRAPHICAL

The above publication was done in 1984 by Family Publications, P. O. Box 19, Ontario, Calif. 91761. William P. Cartmel is the publisher. This Martin issue is one in a series of magazines, each treating a different common surname. They have other issues about Smith, Johnson, etc. The issue about Martins contains 16 pages; it is 8 1/2" x 11" and saddle stitched. Single issues are $6.50 and a one year subscription (8 issues) can be purchased for $26.00.

Since Family Publications advertizes in genealogical magazines it must be said that this issue on Martins contains only three pages of a genealogical nature. The issue is exactly what they say it is, a Pictorial & Biographical. The popularity of the Martin name is discussed and books about several Martin families are listed. The remainder of the issue contains photographs and biographies about Martins, such as Christopher Martin of the Mayflower; Billy Martin, the baseball player; Dean Martin, etc.

It is common knowledge that entertainers use stage names. Martin is a good popular name to use. Dean Martin, the singer and actor, was born Dino Crocetti in Steubenville, Ohio on 17 June 1917 and later changed his name to Dean Martin.

Dick Martin of the Laugh-In television series was born 30 Jan. 1923 in Detriot, Michigan. Was he born a Martin? Steve Martin, the comedian, was born in 1945, Waco, Texas. Was he born a Martin?

Strother Martin was born ca. 1919 and died 1 Aug. 1980 in Thousand Oaks, Calif. He was an actor for 30 years and is probably best known for his prison warden character in the movie, Cool Hand Luke. The famous line was, "what we have here is a failure to communicate." Martin received a speech and drama degree from the University of Michigan and moved to California about 1945. His brother's name was Dewey Martin, also an actor.

MARY MARTIN

Actress & Singer

Editor's note: This article is an update to the data presented in the Martin Family Quarterly, Vol. VI, August, 1980, pages 52-53. Mrs. Evlyn Wiley Broumley, library assistant, of the Weatherford Public Library, Weatherford, Texas and Mr. Aaron M. Edwards, attorney, of Indianola, Miss. did valuable research on this family for the Martin Family Quarterly.

Mary Martin is probably best known for Peter Pan and South Pacific. She has been seen most recently as the host of PBS's Over Easy. Mary Virginia Martin was born 1 Dec. 1913 in Weatherford, Parker County, Texas, the daughter of Preston Martin and Juanita Pressley. Mary Martin has two children: (1) Larry Martin Hagman, born 21 Sept. 1931, plays J. R. Ewing on the television series Dallas; and (2) Mary Heller Halliday, born 1942, is married to Bromley DeMeritt and lives in Houston, Texas.

1. Jackson[1] Martin (great grandfather of Mary Martin) was born 6 March 1814[1] in South Carolina and died 15 July 1890,[2] Montgomery County, Mississippi, buried in Poplar Grove (Creek) Cemetery,[4] Montgomery County.[3] Jackson married Nancy Ann Sawyer,[4] born 22 April 1824 in Alabama and died 16 June 1886, Montgomery County, Miss. She is also buried in Poplar Grove (Creek) Cemetery.[5]

It is family tradition that Jackson Martin was the son of John Martin whose widow remarried to a Killough and Jackson had a sister, Emily Martin, who married a Farris.[6]

Jackson and Nancy Martin were living in Alabama when their son, James Albert Martin, was born in 1845. They lived in Mississippi when their son, Andrew Jackson Martin, was born in 1854. The Jackson Martin family is found on the 1870 census of Choctaw Co., Miss.[7] The 1850 and 1860 microfilmed census records for the necessary Mississippi counties are so dim that it is uncertain if Jackson is included. Jackson isn't found in the 1850 Alabama census.

It is said that Jackson Martin moved to Poplar Creek, Choctaw Co., Miss. in 1850 from Alabama. In 1871, Montgomery Co., Miss. was formed from Choctaw County and Poplar Creek was then in the new county of Montgomery. Choctaw County has had four courthouses with three being burned. The records begin in the 1890's and Choctaw County Courthouse is now located in Ackerman, Miss.[8]

Jackson Martin died intestate and his estate was settled on 27 August 1891 in Montgomery County, Mississippi.[9] At the time of his death, Jackson Martin owned 590 acres of land in Montgomery County. The following persons were named in the estate: W. L. Martin; J. A. Martin; A. J. Martin; Mrs. Beulah Fox; Miss Ida Martin; Ann M. Martin; and Charles S. Johnson, guardian of A. J. and Charles S. Johnson. No relationships were stated.

They are both buried in Old Greenwood Cemetery, Weatherford, Texas.

J. A. Martin was born in Alabama and moved with his parents, Jackson and Nancy Martin, to Poplar Creek, Miss. in 1850. He served in the Civil War in Forrest's cavalry. Following the war he taught school and farmed in Choctaw Co. and later Montgomery County when it was formed from Choctaw Co. in 1871.[25] James and Geraldine Martin and their two oldest children, Howard and Lela Martin, are found in the 1870 census of Choctaw Co., Miss.[26]

The family moved to Texas in 1877 and settled on Long Creek, fifteen miles southeast of Weatherford, Parker Co., Texas. He was a farmer and rancher in Parker Co. until 1905 when he sold his property and moved to Weatherford. They were members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Weatherford. A 1966 query by Arthur M. Perkins, descendant of Nancy Martin (b. 1 May 1799, Va.) and Absolam Perkins (b. 22 Nov. 1797, Abbeville Co., S. C.) states that Nancy's father, Charles Caffery Martin (pages 92 and 93, Vol. X, #2, Aug. 1984, MFQ) was of Bedford Co., Va. and Abbeville Co., S. C. This adds Abbeville as a place of residence for Caffery Martin, possible between the period 1799 when Caffery and Susannah Richardson Martin sold land in Bedford Co., Va. and when they appeared on an 1810 Montgomery Co., Va. census, before moving to White Co., Tenn. Nancy and Absolam Perkins had 11 children b. White and Warren Counties, Tenn. during period 1816-1833, before moving to Illinois where two and possibly four more children were born. This family fled with other Mormons from Nauvoo, Ill. to Salt Lake city, Utah where Absolam d. 8 Jan. 1850 and Nancy d. 1852. I have obtained several family group sheets from LDS submitted by descendants of Nancy Martin and Absolam Perkins, including one by Arthur M. Perkins, showing he was grandson of Ute Warren Perkins, gg/son of Ann Warren and Ute Perkins, Jr. Letters to Arthur's Las Vegas, Nevada address have been returned, marked deceased; letters to other descendants have not received a response. I would like to hear from anyone who can give me additional information on this family, especially regarding the Abbeville Co., S. C. residence of Charles Caffery

Looking for ancestors of this Martin family. In 1830 census of Autauga Co., Ala., p. 115, I find a N. Martin with 2 males and 3 females in household. In 1840, Autauga Co., Ala., p. 19, census I find a Nelson Martin with 3 males and 5 females in household. In the 1850 census of Chickasaw Co., Miss., p. 9, Eastern Dist. I find this family:

Martin,	Nelson	46	m	NC	farmer
	Cunthia	36	f	Ga.
	Munson	19	m	Ala.
	Rhuben	16	m	Ala.
	Flou	14	f	Ala.
	Mary	12	f	Ala.
	Aaron	11	m	Ala.
	John	10	m	Ala.
	Vina	6	f	Miss.
	Byant	3	m	Miss.
	Graven	1	m	Miss.

This census taker counldn't spell. I am not sure about some of these names.
In the 1860 census of Chickasaw Co., Miss. I find this family like this:

Martin,	Nelson	58	NC	farmer
	Mary	36	NC
	John	17	NC
	Virginia	15	NC
	Bryant	12	NC
	William	11	Ala.
	Nelson, Jr.	2	Ala.

From all indication this 1850 and 1860 Nelson Martin is the same person. It looks as if he may have had a new wife in 1860 and they may have had the the children's birthplaces wrong. Is the above Rhuben Martin the same person that married Mary Glidwell in Pontotoc Co., Miss. in 1852 and spelled his name Reuben Martin? He was in Phillips Co., Ark. in 1880 and after 1880 I find no record of this family. Would like to correspond with anyone researching Martins in Chickasaw, Pontotoc and Calhoun Cos., Miss. and also Martins in Autauga Co., Ala. I am researching 2 Martin lines in these counties in Miss. Will exchange info.

Are any of you-all Martins out there "web-footed"? This is a serious question; webbing between the toes may be my main key to locating past and present kinfolks. I'm researching a group of Martins who had their origin in Pennsylvania. The earliest Martin of this lineage I've been able to locate is one George W. Martin who by a Catharine Louise (last name not given), had my great-grandfather, also named George W. Martin (born 1848/49 in Pa. or Ala). There are better than 600 of their descendants out here in La. and Miss. waiting to hear from anyone who can help.

In the 1840 census of Burke Co., I found William Martin listed with wife and children whose ages correspond with the ages of Rhoda Martin and family in 1850 census. I think this William Martin is the same William Martin who was in Emanuel Co., Ga. in the early 1800's.

Interested in Joel Martin of Fauquier Co., Va. who married Ann Hitt. Joel is said to have died in 1781 at the siege of Yorktown. He left two children: Joel (Jr.), b. 1778, and Stephen, b. in 1781. Joel Martin's widow, Ann, married 2nd to William Strange of Fauquier Co. They apparently migrated to Harrison Co. (West) Virginia. William Strange died in 1794. Ann married for the 3rd time to Joseph Hall. How does Joel Martin fit into the other Fauquier County Martins? Were he and his wife of the Germanna settlement?
